TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN,

This is to certify that the well-established engineering Company identified as Sirocco Air Technologies (Pvt) Ltd has been successfully deployed in numerous and multi air engineering projects at CBL manufacturing complex where all aspects of design, appraisal and execution have been carried out by them under the watchful supervision CBL engineers.

Apart from strictly adhering to general engineering standards. CBL has benefited immensely from the high efficiency standards maintained both inherently in their products and design procedures. A good example are the roof fans imported and installed by Sirocco, where exacting and careful design considerations have resulted in significant reduction of back pressures which have conferred Venetic of significant energy savers.

We can recommend Sirocco to any potential client without any reservations.

Yours faithfully,
